Asks Protection of Rural Mail Boxes

Last year many rural mail boxes were torn down or destroyed in the county. Most of these owners were old people or others who could not afford a new box. This wasn't fair to these people, or to the rural carrier who had to bring mail back to the office in some cases. I would just like to say that when a person does any harm to a rural mail box, he is breaking a federal law, and will be prosecuted.

MAYOR ASKS FOR LAW OBSERVANCE ON HALLOWE'EN

To the Citizens of
The Town of Appomattox:

You fine people are to be commended again for both your cooperation and untiring efforts exerted to make our "clean-up" and "safety" campaigns a success.

I wholeheartedly solicit your continued cooperation for the coming week-end. We are all very mindful of the fact that Friday, October 31, is Hallowe'en, and that the high school also has a football game here.

At this time, I want to make a special plea to all of our parents and children to help us in every way that they can to see that there is no destruction to anyone's property.

It is the sincere desire of your town officials that all of our children enjoy themselves and have a big time Hallowe'en night. It is for this reason that the high school and elementary P.-T. A. have been given authority to have a Hallowe'en party in Main Street. The street will be roped off and there will be games and amusements of all kinds for everyone to participate in. Let's make it a big turn-out and enjoy ourselves.

Please bear in mind that an ordinance forbids the possession or use of any type of fireworks. I urge all of you to bear this in mind and refrain from any such practice. The town officers have been instructed to enforce the above ordinance. Please do not force them to issue a warrant against anyone. Please everyone treat other person's property as we would like him to treat ours and I am sure we will all have a nice time.

Your counsel and advice on all public matters is welcomed at all times.

Sincerely,
C. T. Moses, Jr.,
Mayor, Town of Appomattox.

Jail Too Cold

Stanton, Mich.- It got a little too cold in the "cooler" when the heating system broke down at the local county jail, so, with the temperature at 35 degrees, the sheriff transferred five prisoners to another jail and sent four trusty inmates home until the furnace could be repaired.

About one in every four consumer food dollars is spent in restaurants, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Tuesday Is General Election Day in State

Next Tuesday, Nov. 4, is General Election Day in Virginia, and Virginia political leaders are making an effort to get out a large vote, seeking the re-election of U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd and Democratic Congressmen.

In Appomattox County, there are about 2,500 eligible voters, but it was held that only about 1,600 votes would be cast.

Senator Byrd has nominal opposition, but has waged no campaign. He is expected to win another six-year term handily.

In the Fourth Congressional District, veteran incumbent Watkins M. Abbitt is opposed by Frank M. McCann as an Independent Republican. Both are from Appomattox.

Mr. Abbitt has not waged a campaign, and his opponent has been active only on a limited scale. Mr. Abbitt has the solid backing of the Democratic organization, and it is generally conceded that he is unbeatable in the Fourth District. His supporters mailed out a form letter to the voters this week, but other than that, no campaign has been waged.

Elsewhere in the state, chief interest is focused on the Sixth District where Democrats are trying to unseat Republican Congressman Richard Poff. Richard F. Fence, Roanoke attorney, is the Democratic nominee in the Sixth District, and has the solid backing of his party.

Generally, as one-third of the U. S. Senate, all Congressman, and a number of Governors are to be named, all polls indicated a tremendous national victory for the Democrats and a repudiation of the policies of the Eisenhower Administration.

A. H. S. Plays Buckingham

Virginia Episcopal School downed a listless and slow Appomattox High School team in a football game, played Saturday afternoon in Lynchburg. The score, at the V. E. S. field, was 13 to 6.

A. H. S., failing to snap back after losing to George Washington of Danville, the previous Friday night for its first set-back of the season. The team just didn't seem able to get its offense going, and its defense against V. E. S., a team with no outstanding record for the year, was listless.

The lone Appomattox tally was made by Dan Coleman. He ran the ball over from 20 yards out in a screen pass.

This Friday night, at 8:00 o'clock, the Appomattox team will play Buckingham H. S. Buckingham has just started to play football as a new sport. However, thus far this year they have lost but two games. Buckingham downed Amherst, 59 to 0, and last week defeated Nelson County 33 to 19. They have a very large team, and a big fullback named Reardon, who weighs close to 200 pounds, and has plenty of drive for a large man.

Buckingham will bring its prize-winning 100-piece school band to Appomattox. This outfit is under the direction of Mr. Bruce Knapp. Mr. Knapp is well-known in Appomattox, being music director at the Liberty Baptist Church.

The Junior Woman's Club of Appomattox is sponsoring this game, and a large crowd is expected, including a sizeable contingent from Buckingham.

Crocodile Register

Cairns, Australia.- The Cairns City Council has enacted a law under which any living, unlicensed crocodile in the city area ma ybe detained.

"Do-it-yourself" raising of crocodiles has become a lucrative industry in recent years, with tourists paying up to $11.25 for a stuffed and mounted specimen. Need for the new by-law, which placed crocodiles in the same category as dogs, sprang from the periodic straying of the reptiles into public thoroughfares.

GOOD LIGHTS IMPORTANT AT TOBACCO SORTING TIME

The use of good lights at tobacco sorting time will pay off when the leaf goes to market.

G. R. Matthews, associate agronomist at VPI, says in past years growers have used daylight through a north window in the pack house. This light changes during the day, and from day to day, depending on the weather. So the farmer has sorted his tobacco either under poor light, or only when he thought the light was "right."

Artificial light overcomes this trouble, and the correct combination of fluorescent light shows the tobacco colors accurately. Ordinary electric light gives a false color to the leaves.

Use of artificial light has many advantages, Mathews says. The grower can work in the pack house a full day every day regardless of the weather. It takes less time to prepare the crop for market. Uniform lighting over the sorting or stripping bench will result in a better job of sorting — and usually a better average price for the crop.

Certain types of fluorescent lights produce an almost ideal light for sorting tobacco. A fixture with two 40-watt "deluxe cool white" tubes, installed properly, will give excellent lighting conditions. If the deluxe cool white tubes are not available, a combination of one 40-watt "daylight" tube and one 40-watt "white" tube may be used.
